And this was betrayed in his tone, as, after the first indifferent questions and enquiries, he said-- In spite of your laconic letters, I have heard enough of you from a distance. You have become a celebrity, and if report be true, will shortly take a high office in State affairs! Is that the report? Well, no one ever expected or took it for granted that I should become a celebrity! Eugen understood the reproach. But it was expected of me, you mean? Yes, I did promise you, in those days, to begin a greater work. I have made plans and sketches enough; but--our life is so disturbing, so full of changes--hitherto I have always wanted leisure and quiet to carry them out. And the necessary desire to work. Well, if you like, the desire too. The dreams of one's youth, with which one surrounds...
