Original publisher: Golden, CO: National Renewable Energy Laboratory, 1993 OCLC Number: (OCOlc)68542415 Subject: Dioxins. Excerpt: . . . These two statements are not necessarily contradictory. The latter remark is an indication that, as noted, dioxins can be a decomposition product of PVC, while the former remark is an opinion that such dioxins (or dioxin precursors) as may be produced do not account for measurements of dioxins in full-scale MSW combustors. The two statements are reconciled if, for example, it is demonstrated that any dioxins (or dioxin precursor compounds) that may be produced from PVC decomposition in a MSW combustor are: (b) (a) subsequently destroyed; or are present in insignificant amounts compared to production of these compounds due to other processes that may take place in a MSW combustor, regardless whether or not PVC is present; or (c) the processes observed to lead to production of these coll) pounds in laboratory or pilot-SCale experiments occur to a minimal extent under MSW combustor operating conditions. In addition to the above mentioned investigations which call to focus production of dioxins, it known 8, 9, 19-25 that most PVC materials typically rapidly release about 95 of the chlorine content of these materials as an emission of hydrogen chloride at moderately low temperatures, i. e. , lower than or comparable to those temperatures that are likely to occur on and within thermally degrading MSW placed on the grate beds of MSW combustors. While the main chlorine-containing decomposition product is hydrogen chloride, numerous other chlorinated and non-chlorinated organic products of decomposition have been reported, as cited in the references indicated in this paragraph. Chlorinated phenols are produced, as are chlorinated benzene...
